

They're back!

Taking to the stage for the first time in nearly ten years, Candlebox's original lineup tears through a set spanning their three records. Martin picks up as though he never missed a beat; the crowd at his fingertips. They spend much of the night singing along with him to even the rarest of songs in the evening's set.

Having disbanded in 1999 after several lineup changes and a general distaste for major record label politics, the members of Candlebox went their separate ways.

Candlebox's debut record sold well over 4 million copies. High-profiled tours with Living Colour, Rush and Metallica helped propel the band to the top of the charts. With hit singles such as "Far Behind" and "You" the summer of 1994 chart success set this band on their way to one of the top rock bands of the decade.

Last year's show at the Casino Ballroom was one of the most talked about performances of the year. Don't miss out.
